

PEACE AND GOOD
WILL IN THE EARTHObject of Great Conference of Nations Which Opens At Washington

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 12—Fresh with memories of their soldier dead the conference on limitation of armaments met in its first session today to seek "a rule under which reason and righteousness shall prevail."

In the Memorial Hall of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the statesmen of five great powers and representatives of four more gathered about the conference table.

In opening the conference President Harding said:

Harding's Address
Mr. Secretary and Members of the Conference; Ladies and Gentlemen:

It is a great and happy privilege to bid the delegates to this conference a cordial welcome to the Capital of the United States of America. It is not only a satisfaction to greet you because we were lately participants in a common cause, in which shared sacrifices and sorrows and triumphs brought our nations more closely together, but it is gratifying to address you as the spokesmen for nations whose convictions and attending actions have so much to do with the weal or woe of all mankind.

It is not possible to overpraise the importance of such a conference. It is no unseasonably boastful, no disparagement of other nations, which, though represented, are held in highest respect. To declare that the conclusions of this body will have a signal influence on all human progress—on the fortunes of the world.

There is a meeting, I can well believe, which is an earnest of the awakened conscience of twentieth century civilization. It is not a convention or remorse, nor a session of sorrow. It is not the conference of victors to define terms of settlement. Nor is it a council of nations seeking to make mankind. It is rather a coming together from all parts of the earth to apply the better attributes of mankind to minimize the faults of our international relationships.

Speaking as official sponsor for the invitation, I think I may say the call is not of the United States of America alone. It is rather the spoken word of a war-weary world, struggling for restoration, hungering and thirsting for better relationship; of humanity crying for relief and craving assurance of lasting peace.

It is easy to understand this world-wide aspiration. The glory of triumph, the rejoicing in achievement, the love of liberty, the devotion to country, the pangs of sorrow, the burdens of debt, the desolation of ruin—all these are appraised, alike in all lands. Here in the United States we are but freshly turned from the burial of an unknown American soldier, when a nation sorrowed while paying him tribute. Whether it was spoken or not, a hundred millions of our people were summarizing the incalculable causes, the incalculable cost, the unspeakable sacrifices and the unutterable sorrows, and there was the ever-impelling question: Who can humanity justify or God forgive? Human hate demands no such toll; ambition and greed must be denied it. It misunderstands must take the blame, then let us banish it, and let understanding rule and make good will regnant everywhere.

All of us demand liberty and justice. There cannot be one without the other, and they must be held the unquestioned possession of all peoples. Inherent rights are of God, and the tragedies of the world organize in their attempted denial.

The world today is infringing their enjoyment by aiming to deny or deny, when simple sanity calls for their recognition thru common understanding.

Out of the cataclysm of the world war came new fellowships, new convictions, new aspirations. It is ours to make the most of them. A world staggering with debt needs its burdens lifted. Humanity which has been shocked by wanton destruction would minimize the agencies of that destruction. Contemplating measureless cost of war and the continuing burden of armament, all thoughtful peoples wish for real limitation of armament and would like war outlawed. In soberest reflection the world's hundreds of millions who pay in peace and die in war wish their statesmen to turn the expenditures for destruction into means of construction, aimed at a higher state for those who live and follow after.

It is not alone that the world can not readjust itself and ease aside its excess burdens without relief from the leaders of men. War has grown progressively cruel and more destructive from the first conflict recorded to this present day, and the reverse would more become our boasted civilization.

Gentlemen of the conference, the United States welcomes you with unselfish hands. We harbor no fears; we have no sordid ends to serve; we suspect no enemy; we contemplate or apprehend no conquest. Content with what we have, we seek nothing which is another's. We only wish to do with you that finer, nobler thing which no nation can do alone.

We wish to sit with you at the table of international understanding and good will. In good conscience we are eager to meet you frankly and invite and offer cooperation. The world demands a sober contemplation of the existing order and the realization that there can be no cure without sacrifice, but not by one of us, but by all of us.

I do not mean surrender of rights, or mere freedom of denied aspirations, or ignored national necessities. Our republic would no more ask for these than it would give. No pride need be humbled, no nationality submerged, but I would have a emergence of minds committing all of us to less preparation for war and for more enjoyment of fortunate peace.

The higher hopes come of the spirit of our coming together. It is but just to recognize varying needs and peculiar positions. Nothing can be accomplished in disregard of national apprehensions. Rather we should act together to remove the causes of apprehension. This is not to be done in intrigue. Greater assurance is found in the exchanges of simple honesty and directness, among men resolved to accomplish as become leaders among nations, when civilization itself has come to its crucial test.

It is not to be challenged that government fails when the excess of its cost robs the people of the way to happiness and the opportunity to achieve. If the inner sentiments were not urging, the cold hard facts of excessive cost and the eloquence of economic would urge us to reduce our armaments. If the concept of a better order does not appeal, then let us ponder the burden and the blight of continued competition.

It is not to be denied that the world has swung along through the ages without heeding this call from the kinder hearts of men. But the same world never before was so tragically brought to realization of the utter futility of passion's sway when reason and conscience and fellowship point a nobler way.

I can speak officially only for our United States. Our hundred millions frankly want less of armament and more of war. Wholly free from guile, sure in our own minds that we harbor no unworthy designs, we accredit the world with the same good intent. So I welcome you, met alone in good will and high purpose, but with high faith.

We are met for a service to mankind. In all simplicity, in all honesty and all honor, there may be written here the avowals of a world conscience refined by the consuming fires of war, and made more sensitive by the anxious aftermath. I hope for that understanding which will emphasize the guarantees of peace, and for commitments to less burdens and a better order which will tranquilize the world. In such an accomplishment there will be added glory to your flags and ours, and the rejoicing of mankind will make the transcending music of all succeeding time.

AUTOMOBILE WRECK
MAY RESULT FATALLY

Berea Vocational Students Seriously Injured When Car Break Wheel

Jasper Combs was probably fatally injured, and Robert Caldwell and O. C. Fletcher badly injured when an automobile in which they were coming to Richmond from Berea to attend the Legion-State football game broke a wheel and turned turtle about a mile out of Richmond shortly after noon Friday.

Combs and Caldwell were given first aid after being brought to Richmond, as they rushed on to a hospital at Lexington. Both are government vocational students at Berea College. Local physicians found that Combs sustained three broken ribs and a fracture of one of the small bones of his neck, besides other injuries and cuts and bruises. Caldwell is also hurt internally, while Fletcher had a hand and arm badly hurt. Oscar Rader sustained numerous cuts and bruises, also.

The accident happened on a turn, near the home of T. D. Chennault. Oscar Rader was bringing the boys to the game in his touring car, and they said it was running at a rapid rate when one wheel struck an obstruction as it made a quick turn and broke down. This turned the car completely over and it seemed a miracle that all were not instantly killed.

DEAD AT COLLEGE HILL

Dr. T. J. Berryman died at his home at College Hill Thursday morning after a long illness, age 76 years. He was one of the most prominent citizens in the community, having resided there the past 15 years. Prior to that time he made his home in Estill county. He was for many years an active member in the Baptist church. Funeral services were held Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by Rev. E. D. O'Connell, at the College Hill cemetery. He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Cecil Willoughby and Mrs. Dossie Ginter, and two sons, Messrs. Sam Berryman, of College Hill, and Clay Berryman, of Ravenna.

DEMOCRATS STILL HOLD FISCAL COURT

As a result of the election Tuesday the new Fiscal Court, which takes charge of the county's financial affairs in January next, will be composed of four Republican magistrates and four Democrats. With County Judge elect Goodloe presiding, the Democrats will have the control of the county, should partisan questions arise, which is not often the case with Madison's Fiscal Court. The closest race in the whole election was staged in the 8th magisterial district where Jones, Republican, beat Teater, Democrat, by only a majority. Teater made a magnificent race against big odds. The official report on the magisterial races shows:

U. S. PROPOSES BIG
DESTRUCTION OF SHIPSSecretary Hughes Presents
America's Proposal To Secure
Real Disarmament Program

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Nov. 12—A ten-year naval holiday in naval construction, involving a tremendous scrapping of ships now on the ways on contemplated, by the United States, Great Britain and Japan, was proposed to the conference on limitation of armaments by Secretary Hughes at the opening session today, as an American proposal.

Briefly, the proposal is that these powers immediately destroy the 66 capital fighting ships with a total tonnage of 1,800,000. The United States would destroy six battle cruisers, seven battle ships on the ways and two battle ships launched; Japan, seven new and ten old ships; Great Britain, would scrap all first and second line battleships up to the King George fifth class.

Within three months after making this agreement, the navies would consist of: United States, 18; Great Britain, 22; Japan, 10. In tons, this would be the United States, 500,000; Great Britain, 600,000, and Japan, 300,000, all approximately. Subject to the ten-year holiday limitation, the capital ships could be replaced when 20 years old, no replacement ship to have a tonnage over 35,000. Provisions are made for other war craft.

TO FOX HUNTERS

Perhaps the first time that a sermon has been preached to the fox hunters at their national meeting at Crab Orchard Springs, will occur Sunday. Dr. R. L. Telford, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of this city, will go over to the big meet and give the fox hunters some old fashioned religion Sunday. He says he appreciated greatly the invitation from the boys and is going to give them the best he has in the shop.

The opening scores of the Chase Futurity, the first big feature of the 18th annual meeting of the National Fox Hunters' Association, give the lead to Len Shouse's hound, Great Stride, son of Big Stride, the famous fox hound of Sam Walters, of Versailles, for which he has refused an offer of $1,000.

Eighty dogs were entered in the Futurity held under the auspices of a magazine of which Samuel L. Woolridge, of Versailles, is president, and Robert J. Breckinridge, of Lexington, is editor. Four foxes were seen. A son of Scott, owned by Robt. Rodes, Bowling Green, backer, was second in the feature, and 5 dogs were tied for third. They were owned by Alex. Parrish, of Berea; T. V. Graham, West Virginia; Sam Walters, Versailles; Dr. D. E. Sevier, Ashland, N. C., and John Branham, Chicago.

The judges were Wm. Redditt, Mississippi; Charles Rankin, Edward Powers, Kentucky; Sam Velson, Long Island, and Dr. W. A. Patton, Alabama. All are veteran fox hunters.

FARM BUREAU FOR MADISON COUNTY

Will Be Discussed Here With Farmers On Saturday, Nov. 19, By Geoffrey Morgan

Geoffrey Morgan, well known here where he lived for a number of years will be in Richmond Saturday, November 19, for the purpose of taking up the matter of organizing a Madison county branch of the Farm Bureau Federation. A letter is being sent out by a number of well known farmers, calling for a meeting at that time to hear Mr. Morgan. The letter reads as follows:

Dear Sir:—We have invited Mr. Geoffrey Morgan, secretary of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, to explain to the farmers of Madison county at the Court House at 2 o'clock on Saturday, November 19, 1921, the objects, purposes and workings of said Farmers Organization.

We, the undersigned, have made some investigation of this organization and we feel that it is the thing we farmers of Madison county need.

It is strictly a business organization and has no binding contract of any kind for you to sign.

We invite you to come in and hear Mr. Morgan and decide then whether we farmers want to form a farmers organization that will be conducted on strictly business principles. Very respect,

G. W. Phelps, T. D. Chennault, A. K. McCown, B. M. Igo, Joe Harris, W. L. Blanton, C. W. Cobb, Wm. Jett.

Cite Lord's Prayer in Legal Brief

St. Louis—A petition in the Lord's Prayer was quoted in a brief filed by counsel for nine bakers who are attempting to enjoin the enforcement of an ordinance requiring bakers to be closed after 9 a. m. on Sundays. "Advocates of this law are guilty of hypocrisy and fly in the face of a divine mandate," said the brief. "In the Lord's Prayer we find the petition: 'Give us this day our daily bread.' Bread is needed on Sunday as much as on any other day, even though legislative Holy Rollers make that prayer a mockery and try to prevent the Lord from acceding to our request." The brief also asserts that the closing ordinance is in conflict with a state law which permits the Sunday sale of drugs and provisions.

FIND FOOTPRINT IN LAVA

Imprint of Perfect Spanish Shoe Discovered in Ancient Lava Flow in Hawaii.

Hilo, Island of Hawaii, T. H.—The imprint of "a practically perfect shoe, with narrow toe, waist of the foot and heel being clearly defined," has been found in the surface of an ancient lava flow on the west coast of Hawaii, near the ancient city of refuge known as Honaunau, has aroused great comment and speculation throughout the territory.

The first Spaniards to touch the island were said to have come in 1575, when tradition said that a Spanish vessel was wrecked on the southeast coast of the island. But the city of refuge was built in the eleventh century and there is no evidence that any lava flow came down the mountainside of the volcano Mauna Loa, which rises 14,000 feet above the city of refuge, since the city was built. Consequently, it is presumed that the lava flow containing the shoe imprint is of a much more ancient day than 1160, indicating that Spaniards visited the island long before 1575.

Like many of the other strange things contained on the 4,000 square-mile volcanic island of Hawaii, the problem of the "Spaniard's foot" probably will never be solved.

ONE BEAN FEEDS LARGE PARTY

Nebraska Judge Entertains Friends With Product of a Seed Brought From South.

Leop City, Neb.—County Judge E. A. Smith gave a bean dinner to 20 of his friends the other day. Bean dinner is used in the singular. Just one bean was served at the dinner. Before it passed through the hands of the judge's cook it was three feet long and then some.

A substantial portion was served to each of the 20 guests, and there was enough left for the family lunch the next day.

The bean is from a seed the judge brought back from a far Southern trip. It is a tropical plant, but is apparently thriving in this latitude.

Some beans of this variety grow six feet in length and one vine will produce dozens of them. When the giant wonder bean, as it has been renamed, was shown at the county fair, most visitors to the exhibit declared it to be a gourd. But the judge says it tastes like a bean and is a bean.

NEW METHOD TO HANDLE CHARITIES

Drive To Be Started Monday To Make Up Fund Needed For Winter Work

A progressive step has been made in connection with the Associated Charities of Richmond, in the organization of an inter-church board to be known as the Health and Welfare Board. Under this board a constructive program is being developed in connection with the Associated Charities. Instead of depending on haphazard gifts, hereafter an annual drive will be put on before the opening of the winter and the funds provided for the year. These funds will be administered under the direction of the board in the most helpful, and at the same time, most scientific way. In the board there will be an employment committee, which will be in a position to offer opportunity for work to every applicant for help who is able to work. Individual cases will be carefully studied and classified, and each handled not only with the idea of relief but of correction. The officers of the board are: Dr. R. L. Telford, president; Miss Bessie Dudley, secretary; Miss Curaleen Smith, treasurer, and the other ministers vice-presidents, and the membership of the board is made up of three members from each church. The first annual drive is being organized and under leadership of Dr. H. W. Carpenter and will be handled by 25 teams between nine and twelve o'clock on next Monday morning. The set-up for these teams will be held at the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. In the evening Sunday at 7:15 a mass meeting will be held at the First Presbyterian church. The address will be made by Dr. Ben. J. Bush, of Lexington. Dr. Bush is a most effective speaker and the capacity of the church will be taxed to hear him. Dr. Telford will direct the teams on Monday morning. Among those who have accepted membership on the teams are: Mr. Forest March, Mr. R. M. McKinney, Edwin Powell, Mr.

BILIOUS CHILDREN

Black-Draught, Long in Successful Use, Praised by an Arkansas Mother, "Soon Does Its Work."

Marmaduke, Ark.—Speaking of Theodor's Black-Draught, which from long use in her household has become regarded as "the family medicine," Mrs. Mary B. Hill, of Route 1, this place, says: "When the children get bilious, I give them a couple of good doses, and when we have our stomachs, headache, or any liver or stomach trouble, we use Black-Draught. It is an easy laxative, and soon does the work. I certainly think it is one of the best remedies made."

Black-Draught acts on the liver, gently, but positively, and helps it in its important function of throwing out waste materials and poisons from the system. In thousands of households Black-Draught is kept handy for immediate use in time of need. Prompt treatment often is half the battle, and will often prevent slight ills from developing into serious troubles.

Its well-established merit, during more than 70 years of successful use, should convince you of the helpful effects obtainable by taking Black-Draught for liver and stomach disorders. Get a package today, and keep it in your house. See that the package bears the words, "Theodor's Black-Draught." N-141

Stories of Great Scouts

By Elmo Scott Watson

© Western Newspaper Union.
DANIEL BOONE, THE GREAT KENTUCKIAN

Daniel Boone was the son of Quaker parents who lived in Pennsylvania. Although the principal doctrine in the Quaker creed is that man must not kill, Daniel departed from the faith of his fathers early and he became one of the greatest Indian fighters in American history.

When Boone was eighteen his parents moved to North Carolina and in the Yadkin valley of that state, young Boone became an expert woodsman and hunter. Attracted by the tales of a hunter who had crossed the Appalachians into the unknown Kentucky country, Boone visited the Blue Grass state several times until he finally decided to make that country his home. In 1775 he established Boonesborough, the first outpost of civilization in the "Dark and Bloody Ground," as Kentucky was called because it was a butle ground for many tribes of Indians.

Boone's adventures with the Indians in his new home were innumerable. In 1778 he was captured by the Shawnees, who admitted the scout's courage so much that he was not put to death. Instead Chief Black Fish adopted him, giving him the name of Big Turtle, rather an inappropriate title for a man so active. Boone pretended to be well pleased with his captivity and after several months the watchfulness of the savages relaxed. Then he made his escape.

Several years later this same band of Shawnees came to Boonesborough to kidnap their former captive. They found Boone in a little shanty used for drying tobacco.

"Now Boone, we got you," said the Indians. "You no get away this time."

"Yes, you have me but I am glad to go with you," replied the scout. "And I want my friends to have some of this tobacco."

He gathered up a number of the driest leaves and, unseen by the Indians, crushed them in his hands. Before they could move, he threw the powdered tobacco into their eyes. As the blinded savages rolled on the floor howling and clutching at their eyes, the former "Big Turtle" showed unexpected speed and was far on his way to the fort before they could pursue him.

In his later years Boone was elected out of the old Kentucky bounds he had fought so hard to win and he was granted to Missouri, becoming a citizen once more. He died there in 1820 at the age of eighty-six. A quarter of a century later Kentucky paid him the honor by removing his body to the capital of the state and today Daniel Boone sleeps in the land where he won fame as a pioneer and scout.

Long Tom Chenault cried the sale in his usual finished and effective style, and it was one of the very best land sales in this section this year.

PEACE AND GOOD WILL
meeting hall of the department conference was a picture of color as the delegations and spectators began to arrive. The military and naval attaches in full dress uniform made a show of plumes and spangles such as Washington has not seen since the war.

Secretary Hughes called the conference to order at 10:35 o'clock when President Harding arrived. After a prayer by Chaplain Abernathy, the President arose and addressed the assemblage. His appearance was greeted with cheers, and then silence, as he read his address.

The first applause came when he said the conference must have "a signal influence" on the world's fortunes. There was more applause when he asked how civilization could ever justify the destruction of the last war and again when he said war should be "outlawed" and the world's resources turned into constructive channels. There was loudest silence when he pronounced the keynote.

"We only wish to do with you that finer, nobler thing which no nation can do alone; we wish to sit with you at a table of international understanding and good will; in good conscience we are eager to meet frankly and in an offer of cooperation."

Some delegations came to their feet, cheering when Harding declared America wanted "less of armament and more of war," and wanted "to work to that end." The demonstration ended when the President left the room.

Arthur Balfour nominated Secretary Hughes to be chairman of the conference. He accepted, and John W. Garrett, of Baltimore, was selected Secretary General. Hughes presented the American plans for naval limitation. The meeting formulated a conference program and adjourned until next Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stevens, of Irvine, were with Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Terrill, the first of the week.

The Swedish Academy awarded the 1921 Nobel prize in literature to Anatole France, noted French author.

COMMUNITY CLUB'S FIRST ANNIVERSARY

On Tuesday evening in the parlors of the First Christian church the Sue Douglas Community Club observed its first anniversary. Mrs. Ballard Luxon, who has been the efficient president since organization of the club, presided and asked that Miss Belle H. Bennett, who was present, and a member open the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. Luxon then gave an account of the origin of the club, and paid a beautiful and loving tribute to the one in whose name and memory it was organized. When Mrs. June Baxter, secretary, called the roll each member responded with a new member, several bringing three or four new members into the club. It now has a membership of forty-five, with a representation from each of the five churches in the community.

In a wonderfully interesting report, Mrs. Baxter, enumerated the various things accomplished by the club in its first year, among them being the furnishing of a room in the Public Day Infirmary, the equipping of two playgrounds for the white and colored children in East End, the distribution of clothing and food to the needy and sick. The total receipts of the club for the first year was approximately three hundred dollars. At the conclusion of such a splendid report there was an impulse on the part of more than one present to join in a song of praise to God from whom all these blessings had come. The whole meeting was characterized by a spirit of willingness and marked determination.

The president then asked Dr. Carpenter to come forward and explain the desire on the part of the Associated Charities which is now known as the Health and Welfare League, the Red Cross and the Community Club to correlate their work. The Red Cross has given the club the use of their room in the basement of the Episcopal church, where at stated times each week clothing will be sent and under the leadership of Mrs. H. M. Whittington, the clothing will be distributed among the needy ones this winter.

The club was delighted to have with them Mrs. Paul Burnam, who rendered a vocal solo. Following this, Deaconess Emily Olmstead pictured the future of the club when it should become known throughout the city as an instrument of uplift in the community, making it a better place in which to live. She spoke briefly of the plans of her committee to have a community Christmas tree, and asked the cooperation of those present to make this year the very happiest for the poor children in our city.

Miss Bennett then told of the work of community clubs in other cities, especially in the west, where the women who were elected as Police Commissioners, were able to do many things for the betterment of their communities.

At the conclusion of the program, delightful hot chocolate and sandwiches were served.

PARK BEATEN AS G. O. P. COUNCILMAN

The official count made Friday shows that Judge W. R. Shackelford, unopposed for re-election as Circuit Judge, received 6,004 votes in Madison county; W. J. Baxter, unopposed for Commonwealth's Attorney, 5,988; Charles Dudley, unopposed for coroner, 5,911 and H. C. Doty, unopposed for surveyor, 5,998.

In the city races, the entire democratic ticket was elected. Ernest Park, who made the race on the republican ticket for councilman, fell 225 votes behind the lowest democratic candidate. MAY PLAY OFF TIE ON THANKSGIVING A. M.

Plans are being made for a play-off of the tie football game between the Legion eleven and the State Sophs here Thanksgiving morning, November 24th if possible. On account of the very inclement weather the Legionaires came "out in the hole" on their expenses with the big Armistice Day celebration Friday and it is hoped their friends will turn out for the game Thanksgiving Day morning. The game will be played in the morning, so that all who desire may attend the State-Knoxville game in the afternoon.

a big day Friday, and the only trouble was the bad weather. The ceremonies at Berea were enjoyed in the morning. The band concert before the game here Friday was fine and then the march to the Normal campus by the entire membership of the two posts was very impressive. The big day wound up with a delightful banquet at the Masonic temple in the evening, during which the posts fed over 250 of the boys with a splendid menu, consisting of old country ham, beaten biscuit, chicken salad, cranberries, coffee, ice cream and cake. A delightful feature of the banquet was the absence of long-winded speeches.

Captain W. B. Showalter died at his home in Frankfort, age 89 years.

DO DODGERS WIN 5TH STRAIGHT VICTORY

The Dodge Brothers football team made its five straight victories by defeating the Madison High freshmen on the Normal gridiron Friday by a score of 21 to 0. The pass and running fifty yards for the first half on account of rain made the other two on line bucks.

Shelfon Sautley, captain of the Dodgers, kicked all of the goals. He also shot a pass to Harry Blanton for a nice gain of 20 yards.

The Madison line was unable to stave off the Dodge attack, but did show some nice form at certain stages of the game. The Madison team also completed several good forward passes. The Dodgers were slated to meet the Winchester City High Freshmen, but they were unable to come, so this game was played instead. The Dodgers are proud of their record of not having had their goal line crossed so far this season.

HARD FOUGHT GAME

PROVES SCORELESS

Legion Boys Held U. of K. Sophs To A Tie in Fiercest Game of the Season

The Berea and Richmond Posts of the American Legion battled to a scoreless tie with the University of Kentucky Sophmores on the Normal gridiron Friday in one of the hardest fought games played on the local field this season. This game was the final event of the Armistice Day celebration. The closest the team came to scoring was in the last half. Each attempted a kick goal from the field, but each failed in the attempt. The last try for the locals came in the fourth quarter when Benjamin tried for a dropkick. The local center, however, threw the ball over Joe's head and the kick could not be made. The game was played half the time in a drizzle and the field was very wet and slippery. A large crowd braved the weather, though.

The Madison county posts were outplayed in the first quarter but came back in the second period and outplayed the visitors. In quarter number one the former soldiers made one first down to the Sophs three, but in the second quarter the locals made three first downs to the Sophs' none. Batson from Berea made most of the local gains in the first half, hitting the line for gains at almost every attempt. Batson was responsible for most of the first downs made by the locals in the first half. Henderson, Laster and Franklin Deatherage composed the rest of the back field at the start of the game. Joe Berman relieved Hembree at the beginning of the second half. George, however, opened the game with a fine tackle which caused the Sophs five yard loss. Deatherage came in for his share of good playing in the game. Hembree was an outstanding star while in the game. Many fans thought the soldiers could have scored if both he and Berman had been used the full game. Laster did the punting for the locals and did some fine work. He made a nice punt in the fourth quarter that traveled fifty yards to a Soph who was downed in his tracks by Berman.

Dewhurst made the longest gain of the day around right end. This Soph carried the ball 45 yards and would have made a touchdown if he had not been caught by the fast Berman and downed. The gray line of the Sophs was heavier than the locals but the Legion boys held through out the game. The lineup: Legion (0) Sophs (0) Lawson C. Johnson Little RG J. The official vote as made Friday shows that two candidates for councilmen received exactly the same vote at Berea Tuesday. They are F. O. Clark with 338 and W. S. Strachan with the same vote. As Berea elects six councilmen and each is within the first six, both go on the council.

Jas. L. Gay was unopposed for mayor of Berea and received 442 votes; Watling, for chief of police, also was unopposed and received 70 votes. The councilmanic vote, as shown by the official count:

COLORED COLUMN

Grapevine

The organization of the association for colored teachers of Madison county was a success. The following officers were elected: Mrs. B. J. Coleman, president; Miss Anna Manpin, secretary; Mr. Jarmon Haynes, treasurer; Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson, reporter; Miss Vera Miller, Mraion Bennett, Miss Sarah Watts, program committee. The following topics were discussed: What benefit is the co-operation of parent and teacher? The right kind of thrift. The good people of community are much inspired and say they will do what their hands find to do for the upbuilding of their school. A delicious lunch was served. They adjourned to meet at their regular monthly meeting held at the high school building, Nov. 12.
